

Launched in London in 2017, 100@Events is the now well-established and renowned International Networking Event & Dinner series, where a maximum of 30 Suppliers meet up to 100 Architects, Developers and Housebuilders.

During an exclusive evening, each supplier has 6 different opportunities to present their products and services to a guaranteed audience. The event is interwoven with presentations by leading international industry figures, presentations by the suppliers, a network drinks reception, a 3-course gourmet dinner and an after dinner catch-up.

The sole focus of 100@Events

is to bring innovative and international expert Suppliers, Architects, Developers and Housebuilders together to find solutions within the architectural and built environments

In 2020 100@events will be visiting the following cities

- Luxembourg (6th February)
- London (4th March)
- Amsterdam (12th May)
- Birmingham (June)
- Stockholm (September)
- Milan (November)

“ A pure selection of architects and developers. These were the right type of people to discuss product applications with. ”

Paul Forrester - Recticel Specification Manager (UK)

“ Thank you for organising such a great event. For us, the evening was successful, I met 5 potential clients who I'm already organising meetings with and also met a number of valuable contacts in the area and industry. ”

Jarmo Ollila, CSMO – Gbuilder (Finland)

As our 100@ team produces your banner for the event and set up the venue, all you need is to come along for the evening with the marketing materials and samples you wish to display in the suppliers' area. The reception is also held in this area and is an ideal opportunity to mingle with the guests.

Furthermore, you get a 100 second golden opportunity to present your company to all the guests before enjoying a gourmet three course dinner with the senior architects, developers and housebuilders. During dinner, you will move tables between each course giving you the best opportunity to network with as many people as possible. The dinner is deliberately kept to 100 senior delegates, so the event remains intimate, enabling suppliers to meet all the potential clients and exchange details. After dinner, there is more time to catch up with the guests before heading home.

As a supplier you are also invited to bring your own industry contacts, subject to approval by the organiser.

Example schedule of a typical 100@ evening

- 18h30 – Registration and networking reception
- 19h30 – Welcome
- 19h40 – Speech by first guest speaker
- 20h00 – Short 100 second sessions presented by each supplier and showing recent projects, using innovative solutions
- 20h30 – Three course dinner starts with rotation of suppliers' seats with each course - Starter
- 21h00 – Speech by second guest speaker
- 21h20 – Followed by the main course and dessert
- 22h10 – Speech by third guest speaker
- 22h30 – Coffee and networking
- 23h00 – End of the event

100@ is a perfect new style of bringing an industry together and mingle in a no nonsense and effective way. 100@Manchester was worth every single pound.

Peter Van Roosbroeck - CEO Hysopt (Belgium)
